Masaryk was a friend to the Jewish nation and fought against antisemitic occurrences in his country. While president, Jews received full equal rights in the Republic of Czechoslovakia. Masaryk visited Israel in 1927. After the establishment of the state of Israel and in order to commemorate his actions, several places have been named after him: Cfar Masaryk, Masaryk Sq. in Tel Aviv, this street and the restaurant you're sitting in.
